Every child has the right to say what they think in all matters affecting them, and to have their views taken seriously

Spotlight on Marvellous Me

One of the main points coming out of our recent online survey was the request for more information about children's learning and the reasons for rewards etc. As a result, we have subscribed to a system called Marvellous Me.

MarvellousMe is a quick and fun way for teachers to keep you regularly informed about the wonderful things that your child is learning at school, and how well they are developing good behaviours and character skills.

The snippets of information that MarvellousMe gives you (and to any other of your family members or carers who join up) makes it easy for you to:

1. Have more meaningful family conversations with your child about school.
2. Continue your child's learning and practice what they've done in class.
3. Celebrate and reinforce their successes and positive behaviours.

All of the research shows that the more that parents are engaged in their children's learning, the happier and more motivated their children are at school, and their outcomes improve.

Every child has been given a login for this. It is available as both an Apple and Android app as well as being accessible through the internet via a web browser. It is completely free to parents/carers and you can share the code with other family members should you wish. If you need another copy of the code, please do let me know.

More information is available at: <https://marvellousme.com/parents/>

Red Nose Day

Don't forget tomorrow is Red Nose Day!

Children can bake a Comic Relief themed cake or biscuits at home and bring into school to be judged by our School Council.

There will be winners from each class and an overall school winner.

Please, no soggy bottoms!

We would also like to invite the children (and grown-ups) to come to school wearing red for a donation of £1.
